Innovative Concierge Medicine

“My approach to patient care, combined with my professional experience, allows me to better understand what patients are feeling and identify their greatest concerns. I take the time to listen carefully, understand the full picture of their symptoms and experiences, and use that insight to help dissect the underlying issues contributing to their condition.”

– Jonathan Williams, DO

Dr. Jonathan Williams, DO

Dr. Jonathan Williams is board certified in Gastroenterology and brings several years of experience caring for patients on Chicago’s North Shore. He completed fellowship training in Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition at Loyola University Medical Center and has extensive experience providing consultations and endoscopic procedures for a wide range of digestive health concerns.

In addition to his clinical work, Dr. Williams serves as a Clinical Assistant Professor at the University of Chicago’s Pritzker School of Medicine. He has also served as an attending physician with NorthShore University HealthSystem and has contributed to published research in gastroenterology and related areas of medicine.

Dr. Williams is committed to providing prompt, comprehensive care and clear communication, striving to help patients better understand their digestive health and make confident decisions about their care.
